

Axiom appoints Ian Major as Managing Director

Axiom have appointed Ian Major as Managing Director of Consulting Services Division. Ian has been undertaking the role on an interim basis since July 2007.

Ian has previously headed IBMS's UK Financial Services Consulting Division with responsibilities for building consulting teams and delivering strategic business change and IT programmes to clients.

Tim Riddell, CEO, Axiom says:

"Ian brings a wealth of consulting and financial services experience to both the Consulting team and our clients. We are confident that Ian will play a key role in continuing to provide outstanding service to our clients and developing further this important area of our business."

Ian Major, Managing Director says:

"Axiom's consultants are highly regarded by clients, and there are significant opportunities to grow our advisory business into new areas to meet the changing needs of the London Market.

"I am looking to double the number of consultants in the team, and hope to be making further announcements about Consulting's expansion plans in the near future".

-ends-

For further information please contact:

Tim Riddell, Axiom

020 7767 2768

Mike Lord, Broadgate

020 7726 6111

-/more

Notes to editors:

Axiom are specialists in providing advice and support services to the London and international insurance markets. We advise on and manage business processes and exposures for the Lloyd's market, insurers, reinsurers, brokers and start-ups. Through the three business units of Technical, Consulting and the Financial Reporting Specialist Team (FiRST) Axiom provides expertise that can strengthen the brand and bottom line of any company operating in the insurance market.

www.axiomcc.com